

WE NOMINATE

Clifford Daniel Quick, one of this community's best known architects, a highly valued public servant and for more than 35 years an executive within the University's Department of Grounds and Buildings, who this week—in his 68th year—is entering upon what is euphemistically called "retirement." While Quick henceforth will be listed in the University's General Catalogue as "Assistant Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings, Emeritus," he will continue an architectural practice which over the past several decades has brought him into close contact with almost every conceivable facet of Princeton life, including municipal government, educational institutions in all categories, and mushrooming residential development.

This native of Brooktondale, N. Y., a minuscule town in the Finger Lakes Region of New York State, probably knows as much about "Princeton's ever-changing face" as any living Princetonian. Since establishing his home here in the 1920's as "Clerk of the Works" for the celebrated Philadelphia architectural firm of Day and Klauder, designers of the majority of the University's gothic-style dormitories, he has been identified with the construction of some 35 major University buildings, starting with Fno, Fine and Laughlin Halls and continuing down to newly opened T. Ferdinand Wilcox '00 Hall, the pivotal social-recreational-dining unit in the new Dormitory Quadrangle.

Quick, whose "retirement" was postponed for a period of several months in view of his understanding of the problems encountered in pushing Wilcox Hall to completion, is the equivalent of a "walking encyclopedia" when it comes to the University Chapel. Charged with the responsibilities of "University liaison" during the years this cathedral-type structure was being built, he has been concerned for some 30 years with the design, cutting and installation of well over 1,000 individual Chapel memorials involving inscriptions of all varieties.

What is more, he can recall, down to the last comma or even inch, just where most of these memorials have been placed.

The winner of competitions for his conceptions of distinctive, and yet economical, home-designs, Quick has wandered far from his University office in Stanhope Hall. Responsible for any number of private residences in the so-called Greater Princeton Area, he has also been the architect for the Gymnasium at Miss Fine's School, an addition to the Princeton Country Day School, and the Borough's "Number 3" Fitchouse on Chambers Street. In a sense his impact on the Borough, and contiguous municipalities, is reflected in that the fact that he drafted the Borough's first modern-day Building Code, an ordinance which attracted considerable attention in Central New Jersey.

Quick, the father of a daughter and two sons, entered Cornell University with the war-torn Class of 1918 and, like many of his contemporaries on campuses across the nation, interrupted his studies to serve with distinction in World War I. He eventually received his Cornell architectural degree in 1920, remaining on the Cornell campus as an architectural draftsman prior to combining forces with Day and Klauder. A past commander of both the local and Mercer County American Legion organizations, he has been a consultant to, and an officer of, committees associated with Princeton Township's Board of Education and in middle-1910's earned the gratitude of many as the Reemployment Chairman of the Selective Service Board.

For his many, and often unsung, contributions to the Princeton Community during the past 35 years; for his abiding interest in all things bearing upon the well-being of Princeton Gown and Town; for placing little, if any, stock in the concept of "retirement"; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for

'YES' IS THE ANSWER

To Finding Teen Jobs. A community organization which was planned for a life-span of three months has just finished electing a board of directors to serve for three years. YES (the Youth Employment Service of Princeton) found the demand for its services from prospective employee and employer so great that its original 90-day trial period actually served as the foundation on which it will build a permanent place in the community.

In the period from May 15 to September 3, YES received 307 requests for teen employees from merchants, businesses and householders in the Princeton area. Of these, 265 were filled by YES, 14 others were filled before YES had a chance to act and 28 more could not be met.

Breaking down the total of positions filled, YES officials found that there were 11 full time jobs, 87 part-time and 167 spot jobs. A total of 352 high school students in Princeton have registered with the service which operates Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 to 12 a.m. in an office at 120 John Street.

Some of the full and part-time jobs included clerical work, camp counseling and lifeguarding. Spot jobs included house painting, babysitting, weeding, lawn-mowing, window washing and taking photographs. One boy, hired as a general handyman, had the additional task of feeding the family cat twice

How YES Operates. Under its program, the non-profit organization requires students desiring part-time or spot jobs to fill out a registration blank indicating job preferences and providing personal information. These cards are kept on permanent file in the office until a proper job opening comes in.

At the same time, YES asks business firms and organizations to keep the office informed of any employment opportunities. This solicitation is done through newspaper advertising, circulars to businesses and homes, and speaking engagements to various service organizations throughout the community.

When a job order is received, registration cards are studied to determine the proper boy or girl for the opening. YES then tells the boy or girl about the job, and the applicant arranges by himself for an interview with the prospective employer. Times, wages and other matters are settled strictly between the employer and employee; YES gives advice only when requested.

YES has a very small budget, most of the funds other than office supplies, being used for advertising. It is financed solely through the contributions of Princeton service clubs and other donations. The YMCA has contributed the office space free of charge, the Princeton Bank and Trust Company has donated much advertising and the First National Bank has given free banking service.

The office is maintained and run by a small group of volunteers, headed by Mrs. C. D. Perkins and Mrs. David Parnes, the executive co-directors of the office. Among the other volunteers are Mrs. Herbert W. Hohler, Mrs. Robert F. Schwenker, Mrs. Rowan Boone, Mrs. Milton Winters, Mrs. L. V. Silvester Jr., and Mrs. George Doyle.

YES had its beginning when Mrs. Rowan Boone, now a three-year member of the Board of Directors of the new corporation, heard a speech by Miss Henrietta Arnold of the National Committee on Employment of Youth in Asbury Park. Mrs. Boone, who had participated in the White House Conference on Youth, came back to Princeton and suggested that the Council of Community Services investigate a youth employment agency.

The Council then set up an organizing committee, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Schoch, a member of the school board. The venture was proposed to various service clubs, and soon donations began to come in. YES started operation on May 15, on a three-month trial basis, to handle primarily summertime jobs for high school students.

"Tremendous Enthusiasm." "The whole experience of working with YES has been very exciting and very pleasing," Mrs. Parnes said. "Everyone who works there has a tremendous enthusiasm for the operation, and this carries on to the employers and employees."

At the Princeton Rotary Club meeting of September 19th, Mr. J. Carlton Ward Jr. of Farmington, Conn., spoke about the strength of America compared with the strength of Russia.

If all Americans could hear more about our strength and less about Russia's, we would have a healthier outlook.

Mr. Ward mentioned the fact that 34% of Russia's manpower is in Agriculture and only 8% of ours. Russia can't grow enough and you know we have quite a give-away soil bank program. The difference, of course, is that technologically our farming ability is far superior. Bolster your confidence in ourselves and the future by comparing as often as you can.

And when comparing cars please come see us. Our strength lies in our technical experience and our dedication to serve you better than our competition can.

TOPICS Of the Town

ROLL CALL
Is Everybody Here? Two weeks ago, TOWN TOPICS published the number of students enrolled in Township Schools. It was 1690. This week, it is 1816.

In the two and one-half weeks since school opened on September 14, 126 unexpected boys and girls have registered to attend the Township's four schools. Last year, school officials estimated that there would be 1759 in September 1961.

At Princeton High School, there are 530 Township pupils, compared with the 485 who attended last year.

Presenting his report to the Board of Education Thursday, Dr. John McKenna, acting superintendent, emphasized that his enrollment figures were "as of noon today." Three more pupils have signed up since he made his report. The heaviest burden fell on the fourth grades at Littlebrook, where three 30-pupil classes started the school year. Township policy has set 25 as the optimum number per class. By combining two very small fourth grade classes at Riverside and transferring a teacher to Littlebrook, Dr. McKenna set up another fourth grade section that relieved the pressure.

No Room. "There are no available classrooms now in the Township," Dr. McKenna said, adding that next year, when the new school is ready, the Littlebrook area may have to be redesigned, and some elementary grades kept at Valley Road.

He also told the Board that there are approximately 54 pre-school children in the new University faculty apartments on Lake Carnegie, and that the Riverside P.T.A. will make a survey of the precise ages of these children to assist the school system in planning future kindergartens.

TO STUDY FALLOUT

Before Ordinance. Acting on the advice of Township attorney Gordon Griffin, Township Committee Monday night deferred introduction of an ordinance waiving building permit fees for householders who plan fallout shelters.

The Township building code has no provisions for the kind of structure represented by a fallout shelter, Mr. Griffin pointed out, adding that, fee or no fee, it would hardly be possible to give a permit for a building that could not meet code requirements of windows, light and air. He said that state civil defense officials had promised to send him shelter specifications and that until the Township code could be amended to accommodate these specifications, it would be wise to hold up the proposed ordinance.

Committee will introduce an entirely new ordinance on the acceptance of Leavitt Lane Improvement of the present - Continued on Page 4

Who Rides?

It takes a pass these days to ride on a Township school bus. So many free-loaders were clambering aboard that the schools decided to issue passes to boys and girls legitimately entitled to a ride. These are pupils who live outside the two-miles-from-school limit.

The school board now faces protests from pupils who live only a few feet inside the limit and must, therefore, use their feet for walking to school.

To keep the record clean, the Township decides who walks and who rides by using a police patrol car with a recently-registered odometer. This car paces the two miles, and what that odometer says GOES.

The Borough Board of Education has voted to continue to protest the granting of a zoning variance which would allow a five-story business office to be built across from the Nassau Street School. In its monthly meeting, the Board made recommendations for a letter to the Zoning Board asking protection of the children.

The Board had protested last spring when the firm of Sands and Associates applied for the variance. Zoning regulations call for 85 parking spaces to serve the building, to be located at 194 Nassau Street, but the present building space has only 17.

The Board's original objection had been to a Nassau Street driveway which has now been eliminated. Brian Moore, however, noted that the change would only shift the traffic to Moore Street, not lessen it.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Chester R. Stroup also recommended the disbanding of the 15-year old Lay Council designed for better communication between the Borough Boards and Boards of the sending districts. Noting that the council has been ill-attended in recent years, Dr. Stroup suggested instead a series of meetings between the Borough Board and the instruction committees of the Boards of the sending districts. The move was approved.

Summer was presumably sent packing at 2:43 Saturday morning, when fall officially began, but the heat of recent weeks remained.

be reached by April of next year. The Great Road tract was given to the schools by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Matthey.

Peter F. Rothermel, headmaster of PCD, said "this is a wonderful gift, because it will enable us to offer courses in an area that has received only a small amount of attention in the past." Reporting that Miss Fine's has been working with increasing inadequate facilities for painting, sculpture, crafts, choral and instrumental music, the school's headmistress, Miss Shirley Davis said, "Now, through the generosity of an exceptionally imaginative and understanding donor, our young people are assured of the continued role of the arts and an intrinsic part of the school's program."

The first $100,000 gift was made by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Andersen of Brookstone Drive. The anonymous donor of the second $100,000 directed that $75,000 of it be used to construct the library of the new school which is being designed to provide facilities for individual research.

The chairman of the development program is J. Richardson Dilworth. A campaign for general gifts is now underway under the direction of Malcolm Muir, Jr. and Robert P. Wright.

News Of The THEATRES

CAST ANNOUNCED

For Two Shaw Plays. Two young actresses who are veterans of the Stratford (Conn.) American Shakespeare Festival Company will play the leading feminine roles this fall in McCarter Theatre's repertory of four plays.

In the first play of the season, Shaw's "Saint Joan," which will open October 14, the heroine will be played by Rae Allen, Miss Allen's most recent assignment was the leading role in the Cherry Lane production of "The Death of Bessie Smith." Incidentally, the actress' husband is a member of the New York Philharmonic Symphony and she is now on tour with the orchestra.

"Androcles and the Lion", the role of Lavinia will be played by Betty Lou Holland. This young actress followed Kim Stanley as the heroine in the Broadway production of "Picnic" and later played in the Cole Porter film, "The Gazebo."

Members of the APA company who will be returning to the McCarter stage are Jack Dodson, Edward D'Arms, Jr. and Charles Herrick.

Going Back. Gilbert Hemsley, will again serve as lighting designer and production stage manager for the company and Mark Healy will again be stage manager. During the summer, Mr. Hemsley worked with the American Festival, Cambridge, Massachusetts, and Mr. Healy was on the backstage staff of the Phoenix Theatre.

William Roberts, who designed last year's productions of "Anatole," "The Seagull" and "Man and Superman," will again serve McCarter as designer.

Another member of last year's staff is David Vaughan, who will continue to write program notes, and will, in addition, write articles for the new "Guild Bulletin" and assume an occasional acting assignment. Theatregoers will see him as the Dauphin of France in "Saint Joan." This summer he appeared in summer stock at Stockbridge, Massachusetts, in the Berkshire Playhouse.

Friday and Saturday evening performances are proving the most popular to subscribers, according to the McCarter staff, and persons who wish to subscribe on those nights are asked to obtain bookings as soon as possible.

Sunday matinees will be held regularly this year, the theatre has announced, and tickets for these performances may be purchased at consid-

I'M OSCAR

One-Man Show Scheduled. Michael MacLiammoir is author and star of the one-man show that will come to McCarter on Monday, October 9 at 8:30 p.m. Mr. MacLiammoir has compiled excerpts from the writings, letters and conversations of Oscar Wilde in an evening called "The Importance of Being Oscar", outlining the Irish wit's own story, from his youthful excesses to his unrivalled acclaim on the London stage, concluding with the scandal, jail and self-imposed exile that brought his life to a close.

Mr. MacLiammoir is a noted Irish actor and dramatist, who has been an important figure in the Irish theatre since 1928, when he founded and directed

He played "Iago" in the Orson Welles' production of "Othello" and before appearing in "Oscar" in London, he played "Break" to the "Hedda Gabler" of Dame Peggy Ashcroft.

Following Mr. MacLiammoir's appearance, McCarter will begin its own Fall Drama Season, opening with Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" on October 14. Reservations for the series may be made by calling WA 1-8700.

Also on sale are subscriptions to the McCarter Dance Series, the Classic Film Series and the series of three Sunday afternoon guitar concerts.

"3000 Years Under the Sea," a film taken on an underwater archaeological expedition off the Turkish Coast, will be shown at McCarter Theatre at 8 p.m. Tuesday, October 10, as the first offering in the annual Princeton Kiwanis Travel Adventure Film Series.

The film was made by Stanton Waterman, Princeton resident and professional underwater photographer who spends part of each year gathering film material on diving expeditions around the world.

In "3000 Years Under the Sea," Mr. Waterman describes the discovery of a Bronze Age shipwreck off the remote southeastern coast of Asia Minor. Some 230 feet down in the Aegean Sea, the divers discovered a complex of ancient wrecks, many still holding their cargoes of clay wine jars. The music that accompanies the film is based on Greek and Turkish folk music, guitar and modern jazz. It was arranged for the film by Brooks Jones, the producer of McCarter Theatre.

Tickets are available for the film series at McCarter, Hinkson's, the University Store, Jack Honore's Barber Shop and Center Stationers. Individual performance tickets may be purchased at McCarter Theatre at show time.

OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

By Theatre Intime. Newly-renovated Murray Theatre, home of the Theatre Intime, will be open view to the public this Thursday night at 8 at an "open house." To mark the occasion, members will present several scenes from last season's production of Arthur Schnitzler's "La Ronde."

Dressing rooms, shops and storage area have been rebuilt. A new lighting system is being installed.

Intime's first productions of the fall season will be a pair of one-acters, Shaw's "Passion, Poison and Petrification," and "The Fisherman" by Jonathan Tree. The parts will go to members of the freshman class, with tryouts set for Sunday and Monday at 7:30 p.m.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Come September (September 27-October 3) is a light-hearted comedy which combines in catch-all fashion the talents of Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Bobby Darin, Sandra Dee and Walter Slezak. The plot concerns an American playboy (Hudson) who owns a beautiful Italian villa which he visits every September for a rendezvous with his Italian girl friend, Miss Lollobrigida.

Unknown to the American his caretaker, Slezak, converts the villa into an exclusive tourist hotel during the other 11 months of the year. When Hudson arrives in July he finds the place overrun with unchaperoned teen-agers. His attempts to take care of the youths are sometimes reminiscent of Robert Cummings' old TV show.

However, Slezak turns in a wonderful performance as the conniving major-domo and Miss Lollobrigida provides a definite flair as a light comedienne. Hudson plays Rock Hudson without missing his hair once. The natural wonders of Italy and Miss Lollobrigida are photographed magnificently in technicolor and cinemascope. no-message comedies and are willing to accept Bobby Darin and Sandra Dee along with them.

Nikki, Wild Dog of the North (October 4-7) is Walt Disney's latest live-action adventure tale featuring a canine hero. Based on a book by James Oliver Curwood, the picture is set amid the splendor of the Canadian north-west.

The first part of the film is a tribute to Disney's crew of nature cameramen as they record the adventures of Nikki, a beautiful Malamute, and a bear cub, Neewa, who are leashed together and forced to learn to live in the wilderness. The subtle political underlone only adds to the delight of the sequence.

Eventually, Nikki returns

HIGH FIDELITY WORK
On Cabinets, Kitchens. No
home ever has enough storage
and no woman ever moves into a kitchen without wishing it were designed in a different way. Taking advantage of these two basics of human nature, The Country Cabinet Shop offers homeowners and housewives custom designed and custom made storage units, kitchens, tables and cabinets, all made and sprayed and sanded and finished to millimeter perfection.
In a pair of workshops occupying about 4,000 square feet, the six cabinet-makers of Country Cabinet turn out commercial and domestic work in walnut, birch, mahogany and plain old pine, even in teak if you have the coinage to back it up. They have engineered such projects as the 72 desks and beds for the new Hun School dormitory, and they have built a single small table for a housewife to use in her den. They do the display work involved in visual selling aids for real estate companies, and they supply low-cost birch cupboards
for the kitchens of $12,000 homes.

What have you got in mind?
We watched the progress of a storage wall which is being built to serve books, hi-fidelity equipment and storage on the living-room side, and dishes and tableware on the kitchen side. This particular piece has been designed by the owner and workmen at Country Cabinet working together, but many times Mr.

Granitsky, who owns the shop,
will work with the architect who is designing a new home
and will produce what the architect has evolved with the home-owner.

For example, we saw, in some of Mr. Granitsky's slides, a superb walnut and aluminum kitchen with off-the-floor cabinets and a curving wrap-around table which began in the kitchen and ended up out of sight in the dining-room. For these kitchens, incidentally, Country Cabinet supplies hoods, sinks, stoves—
anything you need.

The shop has also designed and made a gun cabinet for a hunter, and several imposing executive style desks for executives with style. These can be covered with Formica,
if you wish, because Mr. Gra-nitsky is an authorized Formica agent.
If you do not operate in the custom bracket, the shop has ready made cabinets, or you may prefer to do your own installation and save in that way, if you like.

Country Cabinet is in Skill-
man, and all you have to do is to get on The Great Road and stay there, driving about half a mile past the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. A telephone call to Hopewell 6-0787
may suit your convenience more. Mr. Granitsky has been Country Cabinet for seven years, by the way, and he asks us to tell you that he is a cabinet maker and a cabinet
maker only; no carpentry,
please.

YOUNG HAVE NEW SHOP
In Hopewell. If you remember the Hopewell of a few years ago, you will recall the Blackwell Avenue location of the old post-office. This building, enlarged by the removal of partitions and warmed up with wood panelling and a fireplace, now houses The Angelina Shop, a new shop
for toddlers and teens, boys and girls.

The youngest shoppers, presumably escorted by parent,
will find Vanta infants wear from the bottom up, so to speak. Fawn Fashions accommodate infants up to the age of three with such sophisti-cations as leotards, little suits
and, of course, christening dresses.

Elementary grades will love
to wear the Kate Greenaway smock dress which consists of a light blue and white striped dress with smooth bodice, gathered skirt and short sleeves trimmed with white pique, and over it a light blue
A-shaped smock to keep off
the finger paint.

For older girls, the Angel-

See for Yourself

Homeowners who sign
on with an artisan often do so in the dark, so to speak,
without any direct knowledge of the kind of work
he can produce. After all, a cabinet-maker can't very well take you on an escorted tour of all the cupboards
he has made or allow you to explore Mr. Jones' hi-fi cabinet.

Mr. Granitsky, who owns
the Country Cabinet Shop, has solved this problem in a compact and graphic way
by taking colored slides of finished projects. "Kitchens I Have Cooked Up" might well be the title of his show, which you can enjoy, slide by slide, at your leisure, examining a kitchen at an over-all distance, or a dining el in close-up and seeing for yourself the kind of end-product Mr. Granitsky and his cabinet-makers can achieve.

The Shop has sportswear in combinations, like the blue and pink plaid pleated skirt with matching vest, solid pink shirt and pink knit knee socks,
all to match.

An orlon plaid in beige,
deep brown and black has a short jacket over a pleated skirt. This $16.95 outfit fits either teens or sub-teens, incidentally, a pleasant fact which applies to many of the Angelina models. The Kelly green, pleated skirt, hipstitched, and the full pleated skirt with its overblouse of plaid drawn in by a leather thong belt, both fit this difficult in-between size range.

Blouses with rollup sleeves and button-over collars come in magenta, teal or Kelly to match those skirts, and Trum-fit sox follow the same color palette.

Any girl who rides in a car will want the bright red or blue orlon poodle carcoat (size 7 and up) with classic collar and jaunty pill-box hat.
A cotton suede car coat has a beige orlon fleece lining that looks like lamb's wool. It comes in olive and brown.

Boys who come into the pleasant shop might like to buy the Corn Cougher pin-check gingham shirt with a real corn-cob pipe in the pocket. It can be worn with jeans that come in good old blue, or red, green or brown.
Sizes up to 14 here. Smaller boys can wear the Vanta cotton striped shirt with coriu-roy slacks that pick up the predominant color in the shirt.

Bone white orlon, almost as soft as cashmere, has been used for a V-neck slipover which a boy's mother can toss into washer and drier. The shirt underneath might be one of the dark prints in grey,
navy or wine, each one a dif-

Man in the Moon (September 25-30). Kenneth More, one of England's top actors, has his abilities severely limited in this fair British comedy based on sending an astronaut to the moon. More is cast as a professional "guinea pig"
for researchers because of his immunity to any disease. He's fired, however, when he adamantly refuses even to snifle
for a cold research project.

After his dismissal, the staid gentleman winds up in the astronaut program and is selected to be the first man to be shot to the moon. The capsule is launched from an Australian firing range and misses the moon by about 229,000 miles, landing in the Australian bush country with easily anticipated confusion.

Amateurs Invited

Instrumentalists who would like to play in an orchestra are invited to join the Amateur Orchestra Group now being formed under the auspices of the Princeton YMCA.

Robert E. Mueller, a flutist who lives in Roosevelt, will direct the group. He has announced that, although the level of play will be high, the group will begin modestly and amateurs of any age will be welcome. Professional instrumentalists may also play with the group.

Rehearsal night will be decided on after the orchestra has been organized.
Amateurs who are interested should call the YMCA
office, WA 4-4825.

Also wasted, as far as acting talents are concerned, are Shirley Anne Field, the star of "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning" as a blond strip-teaser, and Charles Gray as a jealous astronaut. As with most average English
spoofs, the story fails to sus-tain audience interest or concern throughout the 98-minute running time.

Love and the Frenchwom-an (October 2-7) is based on a French Institute of Public Opinion Poll, akin to the American Kinsey Report, and an original idea of Jacques Remy. Happily, the seven film vignettes (each with a different cast and director), which represent the seven ages of woman, have no relation to statistics whatsoever.

The seven ages as depicted
in the picture are Childhood, Adolescence, Virginity, Marriage, Adultery, Divorce and A Woman Alone. For the most part, the individual stories are more successful
when they are less serious.
Possibly the best is the light-hearted look at Adultery by director Henri Verneuil which has a nice twist at the end.

Childhood, in which a 9-
year old girl is told babies
come from cabbages, and Marriage, in which a couple learns that the institution requires give-and-take, also manage to be effective. In French with English sub-titles and some English narration to lead into the stories. Rating:
an excellent French comment on French life, which may indeed be universal.

Regrets Program Change.
To The Editor of Town Topics: Last Sunday evening I took my daughters to see "Francis of Assisi," only to find on arrival at the Playhouse that another picture than the one scheduled was playing. The manager was out front to explain the change in billing. He said that although the picture was very good, it had not been patronized and he was losing money on it so he sent it back to New York.

Really good pictures for young people are so rare that I wish some way could be found to keep this from happening again. Most school children don't go to the movies on school nights so perhaps the management of the theatres in this area could consider this and arrange to have appropriate films like this shown on weekends only.

Let's support the good films when they come to Princeton.

MRS. GIBSON DAILEY

this week urged a "Yes" vote in the referendum which will appear on the ballot in November as "Green Acres Bond Issue."

Henry S. Patterson, candidate for Mayor, and Allan W. Carrick and Joseph R. Wood, candidates for Borough Council, said, "Perhaps more important to Princeton than many other municipalities in New Jersey is the need for preserving available open spaces for recreational purposes. Princeton voters will have an opportunity to vote in favor of acquiring such facilities on the ballot this November 7.

"As far as Princeton voters are concerned, this should be a truly non-partisan issue. All citizens will benefit if the bond issue referendum is approved."

Princeton Seminary, an organization of lay men and women interested in promoting the understanding of theological education, will meet this Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the Campus Center auditorium to hear Dr. Seward Hiltner speak on "Is This an Age of Anxiety?"

Dr. Hiltner has been professor of religion at the University of Chicago and will assume new teaching duties at Princeton Seminary this fall in theology and personality.

Subsequent public lectures sponsored by the Friends will be held on October 14, when Dr. Hugh T. Kerr will speak, and on November 4 when Dean Elmer Homrighausen will speak.

The Seminary opened Tuesday with 232 new registrants, a significantly higher number than in recent years. This is the 150th academic year for the Seminary, and the Sesquicentennial observance will begin on April 23.

MARVEL CAMPAIGNS

To Speak This Friday, William Marvel, Democratic candidate for re-election to Township Committee, will open his campaign this Friday at a meeting of the Township Democratic Forum to be held at 8 p.m. in Township Hall.

Launching his campaign with an opening statement, Mr. Marvel said that his theme will be "Two-party government does make a difference."

"I am convinced," said Mr. Marvel, "that most of the voters who elected me to Township Committee three years ago had this in mind—they were not satisfied with the record on one-party government in the Township and thought that a greater diversity of viewpoint would be healthy."

Mr. Marvel said that, in a series of open letters to the voters, he will present his interpretation of what two-party government has meant in the Township, and will give his views on the directions the Township should go in order to realize its potential as a community to the fullest extent.

The Marvel campaign will be organized through the Township Democratic Forum under the general chairmanship of Donald Herzberg.

James Foley, Mr. Marvel's successful campaign manager in 1958, will fill the same position this year. Gordon Hubel will be publicity chairman and Edward D'Arms and Edward Gryzbek will be finance co-chairmen.

PARENTS GO TO SCHOOL

In Township, Parents of Township elementary school children will go back to school next Tuesday at 8 p.m. when the principals and P.T.A. presidents of Johnson Park, Littlebrook, Riverside and Valley Road schools welcome parents for the annual "Back to School" night.

Next Thursday at 8 p.m., parents of junior high school children will meet at Valley Road for a similar program. Junior high parents will go through an abbreviated schedule of the school day.

Our tale of a new type of house that provides more space for less bucks is dull stuff for mansion dwellers. But if you're not averse to spending money, we wish you rather like the idea of plenty of room and light and air—inside as well as out, then let's talk. We'd like to explain and show you our concept of a new type of light-filled living that we deeply believe in—the Techbuilt House.

Bank Seeks Variance

The First National Bank will appear before the Borough Zoning Board this Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the Engineering Building to ask for a variance to build a branch on its property at Kingston and Riverside Drive.

The Borough Housing Authority will appear before the Board because its proposed old-age houses on Witherspoon Street exceed the density limitations of the zoning ordinance.

Why I Plan to Vote

Republican Democratic

By Lewis B. Cuyler

By Raymond B. Starbuck

I am voting for James P. Mitchell for Governor of New Jersey and I should say at the very start that I am not doing this because I am a registered Republican. I have often split the ticket in my voting and always approach an election with an open mind. Therefore, I can say that if Mr. Mitchell were the Democratic candidate, I would have no hesitancy in voting for him. My reasons go very deep. I am in the fortunate position of having known a good deal about Mr. Mitchell for the last 20 years, having worked with him in Washington during the first two years of World War II and having followed his career since—particularly his distinguished service as Secretary of Labor in the Eisenhower Cabinet.

In the exciting early days of World War II, Jim Mitchell was one of the important members of the Secretary of War's staff and when he was Director of Industrial Personnel for the War Department, I had the opportunity to discover him for myself. At that time, I was called to Washington to work on personnel problems in the Air Force and represented the Air Force on the Secretary of War's Civilian Personnel Committee of which both Mr. Mitchell and I were members.

It would take too much space to describe the complicated manpower problems that came before us for decision and solution. Nevertheless, I can say without hesitation that Mr. Mitchell's grasp of these problems, his human understanding and sense of principle, made him the most influential man on that Committee. For a period of two years I witnessed the brilliant contribution he was making to the war effort. We were both young men then, and I can remember marking it in my own mind that Jim Mitchell had the quality of real leadership.

Although I have followed his career closely since World War II, our paths have not crossed except on one occasion when I had the honor of being on a committee that arranged for a testimonial dinner for him. When the administration changed after the 1960 elections, I wondered what Jim Mitchell would do. I knew he was receiving attractive offers to take important executive responsibilities in the Labor Relations field in private industry. Personnel and Employee Relations being my own field, I was most interested to see what would happen.

I was aware that this unusual public servant could capitalize on his record and enter private industry in jobs that would bring a higher monetary reward than any position in Government. I must say I was thrilled when I learned that Jim Mitchell had decided to enter the New Jersey Primaries for the Republican nomination for Governor.

I determined at that moment to help him as much as I could, and I am happy that I was able to contribute some effort to his campaign for the nomination. As you know, I am now State Chairman of the Citizens for Mitchell Committee and working toward his election for Governor.

New Jersey voters have a vitally important decision to make next November when they go to the polls to elect the next governor for a four-year term. I do not believe the voters have yet been given the proper opportunity to weigh the issues and assess the relative merits of the candidates.

This is a sad and dangerous state of affairs but there is a reason for it. The initial political advantage rests with the candidate who has previously, if somewhat inadvertently, acquired an "image." The voters know his name, if nothing else. Such a candidate always faces the temptation to do nothing and say nothing that will tarnish the "image." He feels relatively safe in ducking the issues.

This type of campaign is a luxury which the electorate can ill afford. It is also the type of gubernatorial campaign on which the Republican candidate is appealing to the voters.

I prefer to register a positive vote for Judge Richard Hughes. He has demonstrated conclusively that he wishes to bring the issues, the individual records and the personalities into the full view of the voters. He has offered to do this by open debate. This is a time-honored American political tradition which places the persons and the issues squarely on the firing line. To fail to do so is inexcusable. Judge Hughes has repeatedly challenged his opponent to meet with him on the debating platform.

Judge Hughes' willingness to debate the issues is indicative of his personal integrity, and his deep regard for the intelligence of each voter. It demonstrates his confidence in his intimate knowledge of the problems that are peculiarly New Jersey's.

He is a Rutgers University Law School graduate who ran for Congress at the age of 28, who was appointed U.S. District Attorney at 29 and to the Superior Court by a Republican governor at 38 and who as Judge of the Appellate Division has acquired the lasting respect of the legal profession and the average citizen. He has, throughout his life, quietly but forcefully and efficiently made his mark upon the trend of affairs, large and small, in the state of New Jersey.

Judge Hughes is used to making difficult decisions on New Jersey problems—decisions based on a sound concept of justice and the needs of our community. His judicial experience in 11 of the state's 21 counties has made him deeply aware of the many local issues.

Judge Hughes has made specific and challenging statements of policy concerning the problems New Jersey will face in the 60's. He knows the educational needs of New Jersey.

Having been in personnel work and dealing with people most of my life, I must say my decisions are primarily influenced by what I think of people. There are some important issues in this campaign and I am thoroughly sympathetic with Jim Mitchell's approach in these issues.

To me, however, the man himself and what he stands for are the major reasons for my decision to vote for him and to work for him. One is not always lucky enough to know one of the candidates in an election.

I count myself fortunate in knowing Jim Mitchell. In being convinced of the contribution he can make to the Government of our State in the form of intelligent and effective administration, in the development of our resources, and in the honest effort to solve our problems. Above all, Mr. Mitchell is a man of highest integrity. I can assure all those that do not know him that we would get a high order of efficiency in administration, an intelligent, honest and objective attention to problems that concern us all.

a state that is a national center of industrial research which must increasingly depend upon a well and broadly trained work force to implement the economy. He has expressed opinions on and suggested solutions for such urgent and demanding issues as Urban Affairs, Civil Rights, State responsibility for Beach Erosion, Middle Income Housing, the Legislative Conflict of Interest Bill, Migrant Labor, Junior Colleges, the Green Acres Plan, and the New Jersey Jetport Location.

None of these matters can be resolved simply. All deserve to be explored more thoroughly in the public forum. The differences of opinion of the two candidates should be sharpened in the public mind and this can best be done by public debate between the candidates.

It is clear that Mr. Mitchell has no intention of allowing this to happen unless Judge Hughes and an aroused electorate are able to force the choice upon him. All voters, Republicans, Independents, and Democrats, can and should unite with Judge Hughes in demanding full and frank discussion of the issues as a basis on which to make a voting decision.

Report from THE MAYOR

Womanpower. Mayors throughout the United States have been requested to take official notice that October 1 through October 7 is National Business Women's Week. The important story of womanpower in the life of this community was underscored when two vigorous representatives of Princeton's Business and Professional Women's Club dropped by to "Tell it to the Mayor!"

These women have also given tirelessly of their time and efforts to civic and cultural projects, including the high-priority one represented by the United Community Fund campaign for $250,000. It is appropriate that we should all take time to recognize the achievements of Princeton's business and professional women. (Editor's note: See picture, page 20.)

United Nations. The tragic death of Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld and the address of the President of the United States at the General Assembly meeting in New York has focussed attention on the activities of the United Nations.

In Princeton, Dr. Glen Simmons, director of research and development at Western Electric's Engineering Research Center, has agreed to serve as chairman of UN Week activities in October. Dr. Simmons also serves as president of Princeton's chapter of the American Association for the United Nations, a citizen group which seeks to stimulate interest in UN efforts.

UNICEF. Last year on Halloween, over two million American young people in more than 10,000 communities collected funds through "trick or treat" solicitation for UNICEF, the United Nations' Children's Fund.

This great humanitarian effort has already become traditional here in Princeton; and plans for the 1961 effort are already being made by two eager teenagers, Barbara Alden and Suzanne Rugg. These pennies, nickels and dimes earn rich dividends in the fight against hunger and disease among children in a hundred countries around the world.

Good Neighbors. Many Princetonians help day by day in the promotion of better world understanding through the simple but important business of being gracious hosts to foreign visitors.

This week, for example, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Simmons and Mrs. Hutchinson Fairman entertained official visitors from the west African nations of Dahomey, Togo, Mauritania, Niger and the Ivory Coast. Mahamadou Al-diouma, the young administrator from Niger, was especially thrilled to have dinner and a visit with a Princeton graduate student from Niger, Bou-bakar Ba and Mrs. Ba.

It is a small world. And rounding out a busy week of international events in Princeton, word was received from the Woodrow Wilson School that the Parvin Fellows, nine young students from the new nations, would be sitting in on the October meeting of Mayor and Council to get a first-hand view of local government in America.

At The Library. At last week's session of the board of trustees of the public library, the members were given some important homework. Members will be pondering the draft of a book selection.

THE IRISH TOUCH

Wool for Brisk Days. Irish woolen suits and dresses in brilliant colors not often associated with the misty island, have come to Hay and Clover on Nassau Street for days that are a good bit colder than the ones we've been used to.

Vibrating royal blue, emerald, deep pumpkin orange have been used for a basket-weave suit with straight skirt, semi-fitted jacket with long sleeves, four self buttons and a wide neck with a little collar. Olive and natural or rust and natural houndstooth makes a suit with Chanel jacket banded in olive, a skirt with two low kick pleats in back and a deep olive wool overhouse, fitted with just a bit of flare, and cut with elbow sleeves and a fold-over collar.

For the dress rack, Ireland sends a high-style double knit with hip-length waistline marked by two side belts. Another dress, in cream, charcoal or terra cotta basket-weave has short sleeves, a flaring skirt, no collar and a black leather shoestring sash at the waist.

Veria Maxwell suggests the roughness of Irish tweed in her deep bottle green flaring skirt with short jacket, single button and wide collar.

Not to outdone by the Irish, Bill Atkinson appears with his new fall collection, a group built around langleine, taupe, grey, olive and beige. One plaid ensemble, combining them all, has a straight or pleated skirt, a tangerine linen shirt with long sleeves, and a three-quarter plaid coat with fringed stole.

The colors have been stirred into tweed for another skirt and the linen blouse has been turned out in natural. The taupe and the sand have been used for a sleeveless jumper-sheath with the main colors stitched together in a wide belt belt.

Bill also makes a wool jersey dress in taupe or tangerine, with long sleeves, a sash and a round neck, and he's gotten some Italian knitters to make classic cardigans out of tweedy yarns, using the biggest needles in the world, from all we can tell. Colors are the tangerine-sand-taupe-gold combination.

FOUR CLASSMATES, FOUR STARTING BACKS: This quartet of Princeton Juniors will start for the Tigers against Rutgers Saturday. They are Dan Terpaek, 165-lb. wingback; Greg Riley, 175-lb. wingback; John Henrich, 202-lb. quarterback; Bill Merlini, 195-lb. fullback. The kickoff will mark the first time within memory that four members of one class have started in the backfield for Princeton.

FOOTBALL AHEAD

Season Opens Saturday. With a crowd that may top 30,000 expected to sit in on the proceedings, Rutgers and Princeton will open the intercollegiate football season in these parts Saturday at 2 in Palmer Stadium. As even the youngest true follower of the sport knows, the contest marks the anniversary of the first football game played in 1869.

The occasion will not, however, be entirely similar to the previous 51 meetings of the two opponents. For the first time in the long series, Rutgers enters the contest a solid favorite to win. If form holds up, the Scarlet will join the ranks of the relatively few colleges which have beaten Princeton four times in a row.

The difference, largely, was what happened last June, when the two neighboring universities distributed diplomas to the Class of 1961. Princeton bid goodbye to eight starting players, 17 detersmen in all and most of the punch that had rolled for such high yardage in carrying the Tigers to 7-2 season.

Rutgers parted with six starters in its line, but the class numerology involved dic-

New Scoreboard in Stadium

A new electric scoreboard has been installed in Palmer Stadium for the 1961 season, replacing the manually-operated board in use since the concrete horseshoe was built in 1914.

Controls located in the public address system booth, atop the press box, will record the yard line, the down, yards to go, the offensive team and the score of the game. The new board will be operated by Bernard "Red" Glover of 22 Robert Road, Borough Superintendent of Buildings and a former Princeton High football player.

An official assigned by the Eastern College Athletic Conference will operate the electric clock atop the scoreboard. Another change in the Stadium since last fall is the addition of 1000 seats placed along the running track on the Princeton side of the field.

Kroll, Simms Are Standouts.

Two of the visitors' players rank with the best in the east: Captain Alex Kroll, a 228-lb center who once played for Yale, and Steve Simms, a 209-lb fullback who can be calculated to give the inexperienced Tiger line a rough afternoon. Quarterbacks Bill Speranza and Sam Mudie run the Rutgers' version of the T that Bateman installed when he went from Penn to New Brunswick in the shuffle that took John Stiegman to Philadelphia.

Rutgers topped Cornell in a pre-season scrimmage, and is capable of playing a sizeable amount of good football on Saturday. The Scarlet has depth, including a fine crop of untested sophomores; fortunately for Princeton, its principal rebuilding problem is identical with that confronting the Tigers—in the line.

Tigers Are Hopeful. Despite the wholesale replacement project that has been under way since September 1, Princeton is not depressed about its prospects this fall. The backfield situation is promising, an outlook based on a combination of depth and potential, although actual game experience is heavily lacking at both the tailback and fullback positions.

Barry Schuman and Hank Large, the starting ends, are capable of holding their own against any pass they meet this season. From tackle, to tackle, however, there is generally a degree of inexperience that is expected to be more of a handicap than the Tigers can overcome—at least this Saturday against a

Coppon Names His Top Players

Franklin "Cappy" Cappon, a member of the Princeton football coaching staff from 1938 until his retirement last month, has selected eight former Tiger players as the best among those whom he personally coached. The choices are listed in the Princeton Athletic News, official program which will be on sale at the Rutgers game.

As backfield coach in 1938, Cap handled Dave Alderice '41 (who still holds several Princeton records for his forward passing). Switching to line coach from '39-'42—before Naval service interrupted his Princeton career—Cap was in charge of such standouts as tackle Bob Turner '40 and center Frank Perantoni '46.

He named these three, plus five ends: Tom Finckel '47, John Bunnell '51, Tom Hennon '52, All-American Frank McPhee '53 and Jim Blair '61 Cappy, who will resume coaching November 1 when his Ivy basketball champions begin practice, will find the upcoming season the first in which he has been able to watch all nine Princeton football games. As a Tiger scout, first on Penn, later on Harvard, he has rarely been able to see the Tigers in Saturday action.

and hopes are that the passing will come along to match the running ability of the various backs. Greg Riley, the choice at tailback, will be spelled by sophomores Pete Ponietis and Hugh MacMillan. Both of the newcomers can move in a hurry, both will be interesting to watch for future development.

PHS VS. FREEHOLD

In Opener Saturday, The Little Tigers of Princeton High School will open their 1961 season on Saturday, opposing Freehold High School. The game, starting at 2, will be played at Freehold.

Princeton High has beaten Freehold three times in the past three years. It upended the Monmouth County eleven last fall, 20-6, for its most lopsided win of the season. PHS coach Joe Jingolet isn't letting history encourage him, however, saying, "They're always tough; the most we've ever beaten them in the past three years is by two touchdowns."

The probable starting lineup: Jim Norris and Art Ridler, ends; Don Opdycke and Joe Cox, tackles; Bob Copeland and Al Ahleri, guards; Tom Volz, center. In the backfield, Tom Olsen, quarterback, Ron Panicaro and co-captain Don Zuber, halfbacks; and Charles Pemberton, fullback.

Defensively, the Little Tigers will line up this way: Pete Greenfield and Bob Durling, ends; Gary Mount and John Corcoran, tackles; Mike Cooper and Joe Cox, guards; Tom Reynolds and Pete Webber, linebackers; Norris and Zuber, halfbacks; and Pemberton, fullback.

NEW Engineering Survey Reveals Gas and Modern Oilheat are "WHITE GLOVE CLEAN"

The new survey by Engineers, Inc.

proves that "winter dirt" is not caused by home heating fuels but is merely dirt that is re-distributed in the home by hot and cool air currents. Therefore, you can use either fuel confident that, so far as the fuel is concerned, your home will stay "white glove clean", with equipment that has been properly installed and maintained.

"IT'S ALL OVER TOWN that Princeton doesn't have much," says Anthony Sannino, (right) in picking the Tigers to win only three football games this year. Edward Meyer, a shade more optimistic, thinks the University eleven will win four. Other predictions are higher—see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: How many games do you think the Princeton University football team will win this year?

Where asked: Around town.

Edward Meyer, 16 Moore Street, bricklayer: According to what I've heard and what I've read in TOWN TOPICS, they don't have much this year. They lost too many of their first-stringers. I don't think they'll win more than four, unless they come up with some spectacular players which they haven't so far. I'd like to see them win them all if they could.

Anthony Sannino, 150 Spruce Street, construction laborer and student: I think they'll win three. As I understand it, Princeton hasn't received as much publicity as usual and they wouldn't soft pedal the team's chances unless they felt they weren't very good. I think they'll be doing well if they come in fifth in the League. It's all over town that Princeton doesn't have much this year. They have some good break-away backs but what good are they without a good line? And the rumor is that Princeton doesn't have a stable line. I'm sure that Yale will come in first. I think the best game of the year might very well be the Yale-Cornell game. I think the big surprise this year will be Tommy Vassel from Columbia. Columbia won't be as weak as they usually are.

Hurst Groves, 1937 Hall, junior, Princeton University: I would say around four. We have no chance of winning the Ivy crown. I'm sure of that. As the coach said, and those who are supposed to be in the know, this is a rebuilding year for the team. The term applied to it is, I believe, we're "pessimistically optimistic" about the season. I feel we'll lose to Rutgers, Yale, and probably Dartmouth. I imagine one of the better games will be Cornell-Princeton. I'm looking forward to that one.

Martin S. McVay, 15 Palmer Square, Assistant to the Director of Athletics, Princeton University: I think we are going to win five and lose four. It's a rebuilding year and they have been forced to depend on a lot of sophomores. The team will get better as the season goes on, no doubt about it, but so will Yale and Dartmouth—our last two opponents. Our sophomores have a lot of potential, but they just need more experience.

Frank Nini, Jr., Opossum Road, Skillman, credit manager, Princeton Fuel Oil: According to all indications, it should be a rebuilding year but I feel they will round into shape about mid-season, probably the Cornell game, and go on to score a major upset over Yale. I think they'll end up with a 6-3 record. They lack experience and even if they do jell in spring practice, I think Rutgers is going to take a lot out of them. I think it will take the next couple of games, for Calman to instill their lost confidence back in them.

Dave Eckroth, 16 Vandeventer Avenue, graduate student, chemistry: I think they'll win about six. They'll lose to Rutgers, and I think to Pennsylvania and some other team will upset them. I hear they are pretty good, but I know the Rutgers game will be a definite loss.

Delos "Dutch" Schoch, Ridgeview Road, Princeton University crew coach: Oh, I'll say they'll win six games. I know they were hit hard by graduation and have lost a lot of their men, particularly in the tailback position.

Howard Davis, Lawrenceville-Pennington Road, car mechanic: I'd say about six. From what I've read, Princeton has lost some men but they still have the makings of a good team. I've seen a few of their players and they're pretty husky. One thing, though, they'll definitely lose to Cornell.

Nick Nicholas, 1903 Hall, senior, Princeton University: I think it will be 5-3-1. We'll beat Columbia, Colgate, Brown, Harvard, and Dartmouth in the last game of the season. We're weak in the interior line. The center and sophomore linebackers could be a little better. The Yale game I'd rather not talk about.

Nicholas Proacciano, 8 Chestnut Street, roofer: I think they'll only win two. And if they win two, they'll be lucky. As far as I know and from what I've heard, they don't have anything this year. It's a guarantee they'll lose to Rutgers by two touchdowns. I wish they win them all, but I don't see them doing anything this year—unless Colman has something up his sleeve and I doubt that he has.

Robert Randolph, 184 John Street, custodian: I think they will win them all but one. I think Penn is the only team that will beat them and I'm keeping my fingers crossed on that one. I've heard that they have a pretty good team this year.

Charles Bartolino, 77 Clearview Avenue, supervisor for Carter Products: I think they'll win five. I think the team has been vastly underestimated and they are going to do a lot better than most people think. They'll win five with no problem. And they'll beat Rutgers, even with its "All-American", 21-13.

Charles Brown, New Road, Monmouth Junction, custodian for Firestone Library: I think they'll win them all. I watched them practice and they look darn good to me. I would say that whatever problems Colman may have had in the beginning, he has ironed out now. I don't see Rutgers stopping them.

ton, safety. This defensive eleven is coached by Jerry Groninger and George Povilaitis.

The team, Jingo! reported, is not completely ready. He said that he hoped to use the final week of practice to work on punting, kick-off and receiving formations. Also ahead is more practice on kicking points after touchdowns.

Princeton High's record last year was 4-2-1. It will play seven games again this year.

HUN AT HOME

For Pennington Opener, The football teams of Hun School and Pennington Prep will clash Saturday at 2:30 in the opening game for each on Hun's Edgerston field, adjacent to the school. There is no admission charge.

With both schools having the same colors, Red and Black, and the same nickname, Red Raiders, Hun coach Howley Waterman hopes there will be no similarity to previous opening scores between the two teams. For the past two years, coach Harold Poore's eleven has spoiled the football debut of Hun. Last fall, Pennington blanked Hun, 25-0, and helped push it into its fifth losing season in six years.

Following an hour-and-one half scrimmage with Peddie on Saturday, Waterman reported that "overall, the team looked pretty good. Gary Grover and Doug Kirk tore off large chunks of yardage," he said and "except for a few lapses, the defensive teams looked good." The Hun coach added that his players still needed more work on passing, though, both in catching the ball and protecting the passer.

Barring last minute changes, the starting lineup for Hun on Saturday will be: Don Piddock and Howie Taylor, ends; Gig Geiger and co-captain Paul Savidge, tackles; Rob Whaley and Pete Spiller, guards; co-captain Pete Savidge, center; Tim Walsh, quarterback, Gary Grover, left halfback, Joey D'Antona, right halfback, and Bob Kay, fullback.

Defensively, the ends will be Dave Richards and Leigh McMahon. Paul Savidge will drop back to become a linebacker and Doug Gillespie will fill in at his vacated tackle position in the backfield. Owen "Hap" Young will spell Grover at safety to give the offensive halfback a rest. Grover, Waterman reported, has not yet fully recovered from a shoulder injury he sustained last season.

The Hun coach makes no predictions about the outcome of Saturday's game other than that it should be a good one. He did reveal that his boys will be on their guard against being trapped "Pennington is a great trapping team and that more than anything else has led to our downfall with them the last few years. So far," Frank Cawley, 236; Frank Del-Waterman said, "no one has seen, 214-207 and a 605 series; employed any trap plays Ken Luck, 206-204; Joe LiCari and Al Hubbard, 205 each; Doug Latimer and Bill Bathie, 201 each; and Val Ranallo, 200, in the "A" loop.

LARRIES OPEN SATURDAY Against St. Benedict's, Lawrenceville School's football team, boasting a 21-0-1 record over the past three years, will open its 1961 season Saturday at 2:30 in a home game with St. Benedict's.

John Reydel, in his first season as head coach at Lawrenceville, has been faced with a difficult rebuilding job. The Larries boast only eight returning lettermen, including only one member of last year's offensive unit. Biggest gap is that left by the graduation of tailback Frank Bunch, a prep school All-American.

Coach Reydel said his offensive line will be manned by Walt Stockman and Chuck Strosier, ends; Bob Casey and Dick Daesner, tackles; Eric Kampan and George Viles, guards; and Terry Irwin, center. Front-runners in the race for the four backfield assignments are: Josh Hannum, Brian Bruel, Linn Morrow, Buzzy Hannum, Bill Riley, Todd Orvald and Mike Bacon.

The Red and Black's hopes for a fourth consecutive undefeated season will rest largely on the strength of the team's defense, Reydel said. Bob Barclay and Brad Willauer are expected to lead the defensive unit. Hannum and Viles are the team's co-captains.

After St. Benedict's Lawrenceville will play at Blair, October 7; at Andover, October 14; Peddie home, October 21; Mercersburg home, October 28; at Choate, November 4; and Hill home, November 11.

BOWLING NOTES

Shelton on Top. Shelton Motors (14) swept its series last week and moved into first place in the "A" League to highlight Princeton bowling action last week. Princeton Inn was second, one game behind, and Cranbury and Community Liquors were tied for third at ten points each. Princeton Market (10) also won three games to move in front of Hult's and Bud's Sporting Goods, tied at eight points each, in the 3-Man Classic League.

Belle Meade, Hook and Ladder II and Dutch Neck were all tied at 12 points in first place in the Tri-County Fireman's loop, while three other teams were only a game behind. In the "B" League, Edwards Engraving and Kase Kleeners were setting the pace, with Ivy Inn (15) only half a game back. And Tiger Garage held a half-game margin over the Crescents (13) in the Industrial loop as they continued to make that contest strictly a two-team race.

Bill Dumble rolled the high individual game of the week with a 245 in the "A" League. Other notable scores included
